Motorcycle Traffic Fatality in North Phoenix

(February 19, 2023): Phoenix Police are investigating a traffic collision involving a motorcycle that left one man dead.

Phoenix Police officers responded to a call of a serious vehicle collision involving a motorcycle around 7:15 p.m. near Cave Creek and Bell Roads. When they arrived, officers located 52-year-old Jay Dils unresponsive on the roadway. The fire department responded and transported Dils to the hospital where he died from his injuries.

The vehicle involved in the collision remained in the area and was uninjured. Detectives responded and determined Dils was heading northbound on Cave Creek Road when a vehicle turned onto Cave Creek Road from a private drive in front of Dils where the collision occurred.

The driver was released and showed no signs of intoxication. The investigation remains active as detectives review the evidence.
