Injuries: Non-life-threatening

On May 29, 2020, at approximately 2212 hours, Phoenix Police officers responded to an unknown trouble call indicating there was a male with a gun, manipulating the slide and making threatening statements in the area of 27th Avenue and Bethany Home Road.

A two-officer unit arrived on scene and located a suspect matching the description walking westbound on Berridge Lane West of 27th Avenue. When officers attempted to contact him, he fled towards a residence. As the suspect approached the front door, he produced a handgun and fired a round. Officer Chavez discharged his service weapon, striking the suspect. After being shot, the suspect was able to gain entry inside what was later learned to be his residence. The officers called other occupants and the suspect out of the residence, took the suspect into custody and began first aid. The suspect was transported to the hospital and I am told his injuries are non-life-threatening. A weapon was recovered at the scene. No officers or other civilians were injured.
